FRENCH AND GERMANS
IN TRENCHES COMPETE
IN SHOOTING RABBITS

When Not Engaged in Killing Each Other They Are Friends and Observe Strict Code of Honor

THE HAGUE, Nov. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—When a battle is not in progress the best of feeling appears to exist between the French and German soldiers. For two months have faced one another on the long line between Neuport and Belfort. So close are the camps to each other that it is possible for the two forces to exchange words. They indulge in good natured contests such as shooting at spade targets, but no intention of hurting anyone, and compete for harems which run between the lines.

A French soldier writes of these amusements: "A target is painted on a spade and moved through our trench in such a way that it shows about two feet above the ground. The Germans shoot at it. With a stick we indicate the results of their fire and when one hits the bulls-eye he is rewarded with the waving of a French flag."

"There is another sort of target practice which is very popular. It consists around us is full of cabbage fields and the cabbage fields are full of hares and rabbits. These are sometimes crossed out on private messages. Immediately the trenches are all alive with the sound of volleys follow the poor little beast. He makes a great commotion, throws his ears up in the air and falls a martyr to Europe's militarism."

"Then comes the time to divide our spoils. If a French soldier kills a hare he prescribes that a German may leave the trenches and get the prize. That day the German cavaliers eat 'hasenbraten.' If the animal dies on our side we designate a man to fetch him and we say 'Lievre fard.' But if he should die most inconsiderately right on the front line there is trouble. We both rush for our meal while a terrible fire is opened and we run the risk of being killed by friend as well as by enemy."

"The other day we did not know on which side of the line a hare had been. We looked out of our trenches and the Germans fired. The Germans' bodies around the corner and we fired. Finally a court of arbitration took matters in hand. A loud German voice called out 'tobacco.' We thought that the proposal was fair. One of our men showed the Germans three packages of cigarettes. Then he climbed out of the trench and walked to the dead hare. He devoured his cigarettes and the Germans took the tobacco. Five minutes later the Germans were smoking and we were preparing our stew."

"The Germans frequently entertain each other with singing. And perhaps a few members later the efforts of both sides will turn to whistling—bills about one another's heads."

PROBE INTO SOUTHERN

Figures Taken From Files of Railway Are Used in Evidence

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Inquiry by the senate committee into charges of discrimination by the Southern railroad in favor of northern coal operators against independents in southwestern Virginia, eastern Kentucky and eastern Tennessee was continued today with Frank C. Wright, of Bristol, Tenn., testifying as to the purchase by the Southern railroad of lines tapping the coal district.

Wright, who is the committee's expert, said the committee had a letter from the Virginia and Southwestern 72-1-2 cents a ton on business to North and South Carolina. He said the railroad delivered to the Southern at Bull's Gap; 40 cents a ton on business delivered to the Atlantic Coast Line and 30 cents on business for Ohio river points and St. Louis.

"Where did the committee get these figures?" asked A. P. Thom, counsel for the Southern.
"From the department of justice," said Wright.
"And where did the department of justice get them?" he was asked.
"From the files of the Southern railway," he replied.

GERMANS OUTWITTED BY COMPANY OF FRENCHMEN

Small Force Covers Retreat and Then Escapes Capture by Clever Ruse

HAYRE, Nov. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—How a single company of French infantry, told off to cover a retreat, without a large force of Germans for several hours during a battle, was outwitted and then escaped capture, is related by a wounded officer.

The entire division had been ordered to withdraw during a sharp counter attack at Charleroi. One company was selected to check the German advance. This lot fell to the company which the officer, now in a local hospital, had commanded.

It was 5 o'clock in the evening when the company was ordered out. The men were told to take a heavy rifle and machine gun fire to a farmhouse, in which they barricaded themselves. Every time the enemy tried to approach, they were stopped by volley firing. This lasted nearly three hours. Twenty times the enemy's bullets announced a bayonet charge, and twenty times the rush was repulsed. But the defenders began to run short of ammunition.

The vigor of the German attacks was now broken. The French commander quickly took advantage of it. He ordered a bugler to sound the French charge. The Germans stopped firing and braced themselves to meet it. During this pause, the French broke the still of the night with suspicious sounds, the French state out of the house, and the Germans, firing of the strain of awaiting the attack, took the house by a rush. They found it nothing but empty shells.

I feel by sinister influences anxious to exploit here without restraint."

STRAW VOTE IS AGAINST BIGGER ARMY AND NAVY

Newspaper Readers in Many Cities Cast Ballots—Not Many Jingoes

SUMMARY OF THE VOTE.
For larger United States army 7,731
Against larger United States army 43,623

For larger United States navy 30,218
Against larger United States navy 48,974

The returns of the coast-to-coast referendum on the question of whether we have a bigger army and navy are in. The referendum, which was conducted by a group of newspapers in all the principal cities, was the largest ever conducted in the United States.

The proposition as placed before the voters was: "Do you favor a larger army and navy?"

The results of the vote in the various cities are as follows: In New York, the vote was 100,000 against and 100,000 for. In Chicago, the vote was 100,000 against and 100,000 for. In London, the vote was 100,000 against and 100,000 for.

The early returns from all the cities show a general trend toward the "no" vote. In nearly every city, the "no" vote was the majority.

The people are evidently more interested in the navy than in the army. In nearly every city, the "no" vote was the majority.

The results of this nation-wide straw vote will be presented to both houses of Congress by a senator and a representative.

THE MODERN WAR WAS "MADE IN THE U. S. A."

Submarine, Machine Gun, Aeroplane and Barbed Wire American Invention

"Made in the U. S. A." applies to the ghastly modernness of modern warfare as now waged by the warring nations of Europe.

They must thank American inventors for practically all of the weapons with which they are making the present struggle the bloodiest in history.

Take the sinister submarine, for instance. The first practical submarine torpedo boat was built by Captain David Bushnell of the American revolutionary forces.

Oddly enough, just as British battleships today have been the most terrible scourge of the modern submarine, so it was against a British battleship that Bushnell's primitive submarine directed its attack.

He built it in 1776. A certain Sergeant Lee Manned it, propelled it by hand, and actually drove the strange egg-shaped tub under the hull of a British warship—the Eagle—anchored in New York harbor.

The attack failed to result in blowing up the ship, only because a screw with which Lee tried to fasten the mine to the hull of the Eagle's wooden bottom proved too dull to hold!

This same Captain Bushnell was the inventor of the first torpedoes actually used in a general engagement. It was not till the civil war, however, that torpedoes came into serious use.

Torpedoes fired by the rebels resulted in the destruction of 30 Federal warships. Only one southern vessel was thus destroyed. The situation is exactly paralleled by that of the British fleet today, which is partly at the mercy of German torpedoes actually because it must keep to the open sea to front of the blockaded ports where the Germans hide safely.

The machine gun, probably the most terrible of the death dealers now in use, also is a "made in the U. S. A." invention. The Gatling gun, invented by Dr. H. J. Gatling, of Indianapolis, in 1861, was the first machine gun to be used in war.

The magazine rifle, likewise, with which all the armies at the front are equipped today, was first brought to practical use in the United States, when a development of the Krag-Jorgensen was adopted by an army board in 1892.

Among many other American inventions which have completely revolutionized war as now played in Europe are the aeroplane, for which credit is universally given to the Wright brothers, which, strung into entanglements, is changing the most potent factor in converting the present European battles into a lethargic unparalysed siege warfare from entrenchment.

GRADY MEDICAL STAFF PRAISES LATE TRUSTEE

Resolutions Lamenting Death of Charles S. Northern Are Adopted

Resolutions lamenting the death of the late Mr. Charles S. Northern, for many years secretary of the state senate, have been adopted by the medical staff of the Grady hospital, of which Mr. Northern was a trustee.

In the death of Mr. Northern the institution has lost one of its best friends and most faithful and active workers, one who ever had the best interest of the hospital at heart, and who worked zealously and unselfishly for its development, read the resolutions in part.

Dr. Frank C. Ballard, Dr. Stephen T. Barnett and Dr. Rufus T. Dorey formed the committee which framed the resolutions.

SLATON ASKS RULING ON TAX FOR BONDS

State and county officers elected in the recent general election and commissioned during the past few days by Governor Slaton are sending their bonds to the governor in some instances without documentary stamps issued under emergency revenue act of Congress.

Not being sure whether the bonds should bear those stamps or not, the governor has written a letter of inquiry to W. H. Osborn, the collector of internal revenue in Washington, and in the meantime will hold bonds received without the stamps subject to Mr. Osborn's direction.

Young Girl Aids the Police in Search for Bu. glar Who Escapes

Quietly studying her lessons at her home, 112 Forrest avenue, about 10:30 o'clock Thursday night, Miss Kate Lindsey, a member of the Junior class of the Girls High school, was startled by a scream which appeared to come from the house next door, the home of Mrs. J. T. Stephenson.

Instead of being frightened or calling for help, Miss Lindsey hurried at once to the telephone and notified police station. Then she armed herself with a revolver, boldly opened the front door and crossed over to her neighbor's to see what the trouble was all about.

When she reached the door, she found that some one was in the room, but had fled when Miss Lindsey, a young lady who lives there, had seen her.

The three policemen were enthusiastic in praise of her self-control and bravery. It wasn't her fault that the burglar made a safe getaway, they declared.

POLICE BOARD'S POWER ABSOLUTE, SAYS MAYOR

Policemen May Be Hired and Fired Without Chief's Advice, Woodward Holds

The ordinance passed a year ago to make the chief of police "chief in fact as well as in name" is declared a dead letter by Mayor Woodward and the police board will proceed to name policemen, elect police officers, and discharge police officers without reference to the wishes or desires of Chief of Police Beavers.

On the heels of council's action Thursday in sustaining the mayor's veto of the resolution of censure for the police board, which elected three supernumeraries who were not nominated by the chief, Councilmen L. S. Dallas and Jesse H. Lee have discovered a section of the city charter, which they and the mayor declare makes illegal and void the Nutting ordinance which the council resolution took the police board to task for violating.

This is section 402 of the charter, which it is claimed by the councilmen provides that the board has the exclusive right to elect members of the force, only the number to be limited by council ordinance.

CONFLICT IS CLAIMED.
Councilman Dallas, before the vote on the veto, said that the ordinance alleged to have been violated conflicted with the charter and was illegal. At the meeting Councilmen Lee found the charter section in question and took it to the mayor.
"I hope the police board in future," said Mayor Woodward, "will proceed to do its work without reference to the howls of petty kickers in council. The board is a chartered body and council has no business to interfere with its work. I hope and believe that the board will in future proceed to do its work, regardless of these kicks. It has the exclusive right to place men on the force, to promote them, and to discharge them, and it should exercise this right without reference to anybody."
The ordinance, which is said to be illegal, applies to all arguments as well as that of police, and if it is held to be void, it will take much of their power away from the heads of all departments.

VETO IS SUSTAINED.
The mayor's veto of the resolution of censure of the board of police commissioners was sustained by council Thursday afternoon. Only fourteen votes, a majority by one of the members present, instead of the required two-thirds, was mustered for the resolution.
The vote came after a number of speeches for and against the resolution. Here is how the general council voted: For the resolution—Aldermen Kelley, Thompson, Nutting, and Councilmen Wardlaw, Alverton, McCord, Shepard, Hall, Layton, Reynolds, White, Smith and Jenson.
Against the resolution and for the veto—Aldermen Seay, McCheney, Maddox, Armstrong and Rasmussen, Councilmen Knight, Ashley, Farther, Lee, Colcord, Dallas, Humphrey and Kimbrough.

WOMAN WITH VALUABLE SECURITIES DISAPPEARS
Leaves for Bank to Get $1,000 But Fails to Return

Detectives from police headquarters Friday are searching Atlanta for Mrs. L. A. Johnson, who left her home on station on the Marietta car line, and who it is said started to the city Thursday afternoon and has not been heard of since.
According to the report given the police, the woman, who is 38 years old, started to the Third National bank to convert securities, which she possessed in $1,000 cash. This money, according to the report, was to be used by W. O. Pincher, a Marietta landowner, for a farm which Mrs. Johnson had contracted to purchase. She is said to have disappeared before reaching the bank.
After a considerable wait, Mrs. Johnson's husband, to whom she was married last June, together with Mr. Pincher, started out in search of her. They traced her to the car line but there all traces ended and after waiting for some time, they grew apprehensive and reported the matter to the police.

LARGER NAVY FOR U. S. SUBJECT OF DEBATE

"Resolved, That the United States navy should be increased by an expenditure of $100,000,000 each year until it shall equal any navy of the world," is the subject the Civic Forum will debate at 8 o'clock Saturday night in the chamber of commerce hall. Dr. H. D. Wykes, surgeon for the local recruiting station, will make a short talk following the debate.

NEGRO WORKMAN KILLED WHEN HEAVY WALL FALLS

Man on Top of Structure Escapes by Making Daring Leap

One negro was killed and another saved his own life by a daring jump, when a heavy wall fell from the top of a building under construction on the corner of the street and the alley. The two were working on the roof of the building, which was about twenty feet high. The wall was about twenty feet long and about four feet thick. It was made of brick and was being laid on top of the building. The workers were using a crane to lift the wall into place. One of the workers was on top of the wall when it fell. He was able to jump off the wall and land on the ground. The other worker was on the ground when the wall fell. He was killed by the falling wall.

"Crook Drama" Held To Blame for Spread Of Crime in Atlanta

The "crook drama," as displayed in the past few weeks, the chief declared Friday that in his opinion many a negro thief drew his inspiration from an exciting film in a Decatur street motion picture theater and that both white and colored theaters alike exhibit entirely too many pictures based on crime, murder and hair-breadth escapes, thus inflaming the ignorant and youthful mind to attempt similar feats.

"Barker" for Wild Woman Says His Pay Was Soup and Bread

For his services as hallyhoo man to the "World's Museum," so-called, Robert Winkate, late of Canada, has taken out a laborer's lien in the municipal court against Claude Hamilton, who refused to pay him for his services. Winkate was given only soup and bread during the last week. Attorney Thomas H. Goodwin acted for Winkate, and Thursday had two affidavits from the marshal's office and the museum, which is on South Pryor street, to see what spot might be levied on in lieu of Winkate's pay. After viewing the wild woman "on the plains of Texas," and other freaks whose attractions she employed to "bark" from the entrance, the bailiffs finally decided that the catch was the most valuable possession in sight. But the catch is an unwieldy bird, running to square and neck which offer obstacles in the way of comfortable transportation. The catch refused to be coaxed, cajoled or captured. The bailiffs gave up in despair. Instead of levying a levy, they set a $14 catch bond for Hamilton, which he made.

Gloves Make Handsome Gifts

Since our stocks are made up of the best from the world's best makers one may select with confidence—men's, women's, children's.

"Such Toys!" In the Bazaar

Dolls of all nations, some of them dancing, some singing, some talking, some frowning, some of them just looking pretty and happy.

Toys that do things—here's a man bowling, here's a big bear giving her cub a bath, a trapeze artist in his gyrations, an automobile running.

Here are the engines, one after another; inexpensive affairs; great big nickel-plated engines.

Here are the electric trains that stop at stations, that switch about from one track to another.

Here are the doll carriages, the velocipedes, the wagons and the like. Such toys! Such toys!

One of the Things You Can Do Better Here—Select Daintier Handkerchiefs

You can select daintier handkerchiefs here for the same money or for less because we buy them for less than most stores do.

The great bulk of our handkerchiefs come to us directly from the makers in Ireland. They see the light of America, they are touched by American fingers first, when they are opened in our receiving room. This saves all the expenses and profits that New York middlemen would have to charge.

But even better proof than these facts lies in your seeing the handkerchiefs—the qualities of the linens, the novel ideas expressed in the embroidery.

Once you see, you will center your handkerchief buying here!

At the beginning of the Christmas season we had 675 dozen of these remarkable 10c handkerchiefs for men. Such a value that it now seems that even this quantity will not be enough.

Gift Umbrellas

The men's range in price from $2.50 to $8.50, and aside from the fact that the handles (often silver mounted) make them good looking, the covers are lasting, dependable.

The women's are in great variety, from $2.50 to $15, with silver and gold and pearl mounted handles.

Burglars Steal Goat
And Number of Fine
Rhode Island Reds

It's bad enough for burglars to get your money, or your jewelry, or your watch, but when they get your goat, why that's something else again.

C. H. Hicks, of 57 Powell street, had a goat which he prized very highly, just as most people prize their coats, and Thursday night burglars invaded his premises and got the goat and went away with it.

And when one has a flock of fine fowls, feeding them for Christmas, and burglars take them away in the night, why that's no laughing matter either.

Harry L. Schlesinger, well-known Atlantan, who lives at 275 West Peachtree street, woke up Friday morning to find his chicken house empty. The burglars had picked him clean-taking an assortment of fifteen Rhode Island Reds, Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns.

Mr. Schlesinger is rather surprised they didn't take his automobile, so long as they were about it.

W. B. Stephens, of 102 Whitehall street, is in the same boat with Mr. Schlesinger. They got four hens from him Thursday night.

Among the others visited by burglars during the night were C. C. Edwards, of 233 Oak street, where they got two pistols and a savings bank containing $5, and Miss Marion Rosenberg, of 149 Washington street, where they got a gold watch.

FARM CREDITS MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION

Farmer Pays Too Much Interest, Says Former New York Central Head

(By Associated Press.)

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 11.—Farm wealth of the United States estimated at $40,000,000,000, should be the basis on which the prosperity of the country rests permanently, yet there is no adequate law under which to finance the farm. That was the condition described here today at the Interstate Agricultural congress by W. C. Brown, former president of the New York Central railroad.

"The establishment of farm credits is one of the most important questions now before the nation," Mr. Brown said. "The farmer is paying twice the interest he should. Long-time loans at a low rate would enable the farmer to properly finance his work, and it is this financing upon which depends to a large degree the prosperity of the country."

HEBREW SUNDAY SCHOOL
IN CHANUCKAH CONCERT

The Hebrew Sunday school of the congregation Ahavath Achim will give a Chanukah concert on Sunday, December 13, at 4:30 p. m., at the Gilmer street synagogue, corner of Gilmer street and Piedmont avenue.

A most interesting and instructive program has been arranged by M. Shainblum, under whose direction it is given. Dr. Solo, H. Goldstone is the musical director and Rabbi Dr. H. Yood will make the principal address. The Young Israel club will take an active part in the program and will light the Chanukah candles.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thelma M. Burgess

Peter Rabbit picked up his long ears and listened. Could it be, could it possibly be, that that dog was barking his tail? He certainly was getting excited over something, right where Peter had been a little while before, and Peter strongly suspected that that something was the scent he had left in his tracks when he was there. "I believe it is," muttered Peter. "I certainly believe it is. I'll have a little run with that dog and then when I get tired I'll play a trick or two on him and go home to the dear Old Briar Patch." Now, Peter knew that he should have been in the dear Old Briar Patch long before. Here it was broad daylight and he was still in the Green Forest. He knew just what little Mrs. Peter would say to him when he did go home, and he knew that he deserved it. The truth is Peter had felt so good the night before and had had so much fun scampering around in the moonlight, which he dearly loved, that he just hadn't realized how late it was getting until quite suddenly he had discovered that Mistress Moon had retired, and Jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun had begun his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky. Even then he had delayed starting for the Old Briar Patch. "I am so late, anyway, that it won't make any difference if I'm a little later," he had thought.

Now, Peter had found his tracks and he was likely to have to do some running to keep a whole skin. He thought didn't trouble him much. He had been chased so often by Bowser the Hound, that he just hadn't realized how late it was getting until quite suddenly he had discovered that Mistress Moon had retired, and Jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun had begun his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky. Even then he had delayed starting for the Old Briar Patch. "I am so late, anyway, that it won't make any difference if I'm a little later," he had thought.

STYLES OF 50 YEARS AGO NEW AGAIN

Old fashions are new fashions this winter. The short waisted, high skirt, the fish effect in the bodice are all revivals of styles that were new almost fifty years ago. As may be seen in the illustration, skirts in general for formal wear as well as those for street use are extremely wide. The folds that fall from waistline to hem are characteristic of all the new skirts. The gown illustrated is made of white Ottoman silk.

him Peter darted away with a saucer fling of his long hind legs. He was going to enjoy that morning run. The air was clear and cool, just right for a lively run.

With a great and excited barking, the dog was after him, and away they went. Peter in front, hiperty-hiperty-hiperty, and the dog behind doing his best to get everybody within a mile knew that he was going to catch Peter if he could. Everything started off just as Peter had planned. He ran this way and that way. He ran in circles and criss-crossed his way until he was tired. Peter was too close to shoot.

It didn't take Peter many jumps to get behind a bush. No air! And he was none too soon, for just as he did so there was a bang from the terrible gun and the shot made a great hole in the ground, right at Peter's feet. He was so close to shoot.

That Fire Inspector Otis, of the Atlanta fire department, is demoted from his position to the rank of fireman, is the recommendation that will be made to the board of firemasters Friday afternoon by Councilman Frank H. Reynolds, constituting the majority of a special committee of the board appointed to investigate charges of neglect of duty lodged against the inspector.

Councilman Frank H. Reynolds, the other member of the committee, will submit a minority report, recommending Otis, this report being in agreement with Chief Cummings, who has defended him. All of the committee are agreed that there should be a new system of inspection, with reports in triplicate to be filed.

G. W. SCIPLE ASKS CITY FOR $25,000 DAMAGES
 Attorney Reuben Arnold Files Claim With City Clerk Walter Taylor

Attorney Reuben H. Arnold, representing George W. Sciple, on Friday filed with City Clerk Walter Taylor a claim for $25,000 damages against the city as the result of alleged injury to the property of Mr. Sciple by the regrading of Whitehall street.

The petition for damages sets out that Mr. Sciple owned two pieces of property on Whitehall street between Mitchell and Third avenues. One site is 10 feet wide and the other 25 feet, and on both are two-story buildings.

Mr. Sciple declares in the case of the large building it was left ten feet above the street and that he was forced to alter the building to build a sub-story. The smaller building, he says, has been left seven feet above the street and is still inaccessible.

He estimates in the petition the damage to the two properties at $25,000. The procedure in such city claim cases is that the remains on file for thirty days with the clerk and if at that time an adjustment has not been made the complaint may be filed.

Other similar claims as the result of the regrading are expected.

CAUSED BREAK IN COTTON

Market in New York Closed 6

the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Cotton was down 6

ended early today owing to the circulation of December notices, estimated at about 3,000 bales, and renewed liquidation. Yesterday's somewhat optimistic evidence inspired some comparatively little activity. The market for cotton futures was better than due, but after opening steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 1/2 point, it closed 1/2 point higher. Yesterday's cotton was relatively easy and there seemed to be southern selling as well as scattering liquidation and after some early investment in the futures market, the market for cotton did not seem to be a great deal of support around the ring.

There was some somewhat less active activity in the futures market in the afternoon, but the market continued easy with prices some 6 to 18 points net lower during the early afternoon.

The cotton movement for the week fully shows the free movement of cotton in Texas and confirms the reports of free selling. Dallas

There was no fresh feature during the middle of the afternoon and trading continued with prices about 8 to 20 points higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—Cotton futures advanced one to four cents in early trading today chiefly as the result of a better Liverpool market than due. Shorts were inclined to cover, but the demand from them was met by only small selling orders.

Reports of easier spot markets in the interior increased selling and at noon the market stood at a net loss of 7 points.

NEW YORK COTTON LETTER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—There was renewed selling on and after the call coming from the ring generally. Trade was said to be holding off from the south, Liverpool and Wall street interests. The only buying of consequence came from one or two brokers which was said to be true. The London Sentiment continues very bearish since yesterday's government figures and the belief is that this indicates a crop around 17,000,000 bales. The demand for October was especially noticeable but the heavy selling was too much for the limited support. However, at the moment the market is steady and short covering may stimulate prices around present levels for a short time, but the general trend looks lower.—Anderson.

Business losses caused by an imperfect accounting system

Such losses cost many businesses each year far more than would the services of a qualified Certified Public Accountant.

BATTLESHIPS ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL, DANIELS SAYS

Submarines and Mines All Right, He Says, But Big Fighters Control Seas

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Dominating necessity of dreadnaughts to maintain the strength of powers at sea, with submarines and mines as minor essentials, was emphasized by Secretary Daniels today before the House naval committee. He declared that if a few came to attack the United States it would be the battleships getting forth to meet the enemy that would be mainly relied upon and then would come the added weapons—submarines and mines—to rely on for defense.

That no request has been made by the administration for an international conference on disarmament was also mentioned. "Battleships," he declared, "are the only ships we can rely on to command the seas."

"We have today," said Secretary Daniels, "more and larger, speedier, improved battleships than ever before, with a greater tonnage than ever before and far greater destructive power. Undoubtedly we have more complete auxiliary craft, submarines, torpedo boats, and more submarines, more letter coast defense, more men than ever before, and the men are far more efficient, better educated and more completely equipped than in all the history of the country."

Secretary Daniels said all navy yards should be equipped to build warships. New York and Philadelphia navy yards, he said, should be so equipped. New York and Portsmouth should be able to build a certain class of ships at the lowest price.

"We ought to have a place to build a battleship on the Pacific coast," he added.

Secretary Daniels testified that the additional tonnage asked for in this year's recommendations could be sent into the Caribbean sea and the Gulf of Mexico "where the fleet cannot send a dreadnaught."

"He said the navy had $41,991,734 available for new construction this year, or $25,626,035 more than last year."

He argued that each navy yard should build a certain class of ships and said there were too many ships being built by contract and too few by the navy yards.

Secretary Daniels said he would use the smaller yard to build submarine boats, and reinforced his view that the government ought to build submarines.

"What country have you in mind that we would likely have war with?" asked Representative Hensley, of Illinois.

"Dahomey," replied Secretary Daniels, smiling.

"We should not consider war with any country or build against any country," continued the secretary. "The navy prepares for our defense from whatever quarter an attack may come; a defense against any enemy. We must prepare to defend ourselves in the very best way we can."

F. J. MERRIAM CHANGES MIND ABOUT POLICE

Says Reporter Got Story Wrong But That It Was Good Yarn

"The reporter wanted to know if the policemen were called at once and I replied that I thought so, but I wasn't sure, as I was engaged in my room at the time."

"I now desire to retract what I said about the police. They have already recovered the watch belonging to Miss Reynolds and expect to catch the thief and get the ring today. It seems that the police do amount to something and are doing more to stop crime in this city than many of us realize, who cannot appreciate what they are up against."

"I believe in giving every one a square deal, and while I may not agree with some of the policies of Chief Beavers, I have always said that I believed he was honest and conscientious in everything he did. The relations between Chief Beavers and myself and the Southern Railway have always been of the pleasantest and I object to having my name used to knock a man without cause, toward whom I have a most friendly feeling."

"The reporter doubtless thought that I did say I gave him liberty to elaborate and add spice to his story and at the same time take a fall out of the chief, toward whom it is well known his paper is opposed. I will say this for him, he wrote a good story."

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF THREE BATTLESHIPS

Official Statement Says It Was Realized Two Others Were Doomed

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Dec. 11.—(Via Amsterdam and London).—A German semi-official statement was given out here today regarding the South Atlantic naval battle. The loss of the cruisers Scharnhorst, Guel, and Leipzig is conceded by the Germans and little hope was held out that the cruisers Dresden and Nürnberg could long evade capture. The statement reads:

"Regarding the naval battle off the Falkland Islands it transpires that after the battle with Sir Christopher Cradock's ships off Coronel, put into the harbor of Santiago de Chile and left there after a day of less than 24 hours for an unknown destination. It is assumed the small steamed southward to seek the British battleship Canopus and the light cruiser Glasgow."

"Meanwhile, it appears from the English newspapers, a very strong British squadron was dispatched to search for and to destroy our cruiser squadron. Nothing certain is yet known by us concerning the battle. It is reasonable to conclude, however, that the Scharnhorst, Guel and Leipzig were sunk while the Dresden and the Nürnberg succeeded in escaping."

"In view of the superiority of the enemy's fleet, which consists mainly of his fast, well-armed ships, there seems little chance that our two cruisers can long evade pursuit. We must, therefore, also reckon with the loss of both these ships."

"It is hardly to be expected from British sources that accurate information will be given of the course of the conflict or of the composition of the British squadron."

"It should not be forgotten that our squadron was four months on the high seas and that, without being able to make use of cablegrams or other means of information, it assembled and delayed a heavy blow to the enemy's fleet. No ship was lost to the enemy's fleet. There was no dock for the cleaning of their boats. They succeeded, nevertheless, in getting supplies of provisions and coal for four months without falling into the enemy's hands."

"The British official statement announcing that the German cruiser Nürnberg also had been sunk December 8, apparently had not been made public in Berlin when the foreign semi-official communication was issued."

Negro Pastor Fired Because He Couldn't Keep From Flirting

Rev. W. H. Brown, Negro, has lost his pulpit because his congregation says he flirted with feminine members of the flock.

Rev. Brown was pastor of the negro Providence Baptist church. He was dismissed before Judge Poulston Friday to answer a petition for a permanent injunction to keep him from preaching in his church.

Witnesses testified that Rev. Brown's interest in the skirts exceeded his devotion to the scriptures, whereupon Judge Poulston granted the injunction.

CHINAMAN DENIES HE VIOLATED EXCLUSION ACT
Young Chung, a Manchester, N. H., Chinaman, made bold before United States Commissioner W. Colquitt Cary Friday pending the hearing on January 5 of the charge that he violated the Chinese exclusion act. Chung claims he can prove he was born in San Francisco.

It will be given of the course of the conflict or of the composition of the British squadron.

It should not be forgotten that our squadron was four months on the high seas and that, without being able to make use of cablegrams or other means of information, it assembled and delayed a heavy blow to the enemy's fleet. The body will be taken to Auburn, N. Y., in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms and a committee of the house.

TEMPERATURE TO DROP TO 25 FRIDAY NIGHT

The coldest weather Atlanta has experienced since the record November day a few weeks ago, is looked for Friday night. The sudden change began Thursday night, the mercury reaching a minimum temperature of 29 degrees at 4 o'clock Friday morning.

A temperature of 25 degrees is predicted for Friday night, with gradual warming up during the day Saturday. Fair and sunny weather is expected, so that the freeze will not be felt so severely.
